Won From Paducah Here by Local Nine.

Hopkinsville Club Playing Good Ball and Climbing the Ladder in the "Standing Column."

Hopkinsville won both games from Paducah, played here last week. The third of the series was scheduled to be played yesterday, but we went to press before the score was announced.

It was Paducah's first appearance on the Hopkinsville diamond this season and the visitors got the small end of the score both Friday and Saturday. Both were good games and were witnessed by large crowds. Batteries Friday: For Hopkinsville, Keeler and Street; Paducah, Wilson and Edmunds.
The score was 9 to 3. On Saturday the game was much closer, the score being 3 to 1. Edwards pitched for the locals and the way he manipulated the ball was a caution to the batters. Only seven hits were made off him and there was only one error made by the home team. It was a beautiful game, in fact one of the prettiest ever played on the Hopkinsville Diamond.

Other games Saturday played by the K. I. T. league resulted as follows: Clarksville 7, Cairo 3; Henderson 2, Jackson 6.

The last of the series of True to the reputation which Kentuckians have long since estab-

"women folks", the executive committee of the state fair has certainly dealt most generously with them in awarding the premium list in the woman's department.

Not only are the premiums the largest offered by any state in the union, ($750.00 having been allotted to this one department,) but so wide is their scope and so broad their purpose to reach every class, that one may be well repaid by a careful study of the lists.

OCULISTS FOR SCHOOLS.

London Will Hereafter Have Experts Look After Children's Eyes.

At a recent meeting of the London school board, over which Lord Itay presided, a report was presented in which the general purposes committee recommended the appointment of six oculists at a cost of £375 per year, says the London Telegraph. According to the medical officer, the percentage of school children with normal vision increased with every year of age and standard of advance during school life, reaching 80 per cent. with standard seventh. Ten per cent. all through school life had bad vision, and this remained about a constant proportion. The percentages of defect appeared to vary more with the social and nutritive conditions of the children, and with racial peculiarity than with any school conditions, for school effects from fine work and poor illumination were more likely to show themselves in general nerve strain and unhealthiness, nutritive, nutritional conditions than in very defective visual acuity during school life.

The medical officer further stated that the selection of children whose efficiency in school is damaged by dirt, parasites, chronic diseases of ears or impaired visual acuity is just beginning. The treatment of all these matters is tedious, has to be thorough, but is a routine of the most monotonous and uninteresting description. The burden at present falls on the hospitals, and they have not yet adapted themselves to it.

Whether even with time they ever can efficiently discharge this public duty is at least doubtful. The vision examinations show 10 per cent. of the 600,000 school children in London so bad that detailed investigation and possibly treatment are necessary. An equal number with slighter defects would also benefit by this. It is found at hospitals or elsewhere that a large proportion of this class on further examination come out normal as regards vision, and may require no treatment. No amount of reasonable effort can eliminate these in school. Regarding vision only, the conclusions are that from 10,000 to 20,000 children annually in London ought to have detailed medical examination, and, if required, treatment, if the best educational results are to be secured, and their future efficiency is to be promoted. After the recommendation of the committee was adopted by 25 to 5.

EXCESS IN GOLF.

English Publication Feels Called to Sound a Warning Word.

Much time is spent over golf, and it is brought to bear on the game with a devotion to detail which ought to be expended upon serious things. This kind of mania for a form of recreation, the London Lancet, cannot be regarded as merely a struggle to maintain the standard of physical culture on which mental health depends. It must rather be looked upon as an excessive attention to a game which is an admirable thing in itself, but which we admit to be an excellent warning word against its cult. It cannot be played carelessly and haphazard practice is required to maintain the position in the handicap list which is somewhat contemptuously described as "concrete twelve" has been reached, if a higher standard is to be attained. It is exactly here that the danger lies. It is a pitfall for many men. Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well, is an axiom of every thinking man must cordially endorse. As no one can play golf well without the sacrifice of other things, the workingman is soon brought to a parting of three ways. Shall he leave off playing a game in which he can only excel by much expenditure of time? Or shall he content himself with a moderate play which he could, and he would, play much better? Or shall he give more thought than is right to what, best, is but laborious idleness? We hope that all our readers will take the middle course. Let them reap the undoubted good that is offered them by a break in their round of work and by brisk exercise on open hill and moor, and let those of them who are not brilliant exponents of golf recognize cheerfully that excellence only come by the neglect of more important things.

SARTO A DARK HORSE.

It is stated in good authority from Rome that on the first ballot Saturday Cardinal Sarfo obtained only one vote. Cardinal Rampolla received twenty-four, Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli fifteen and the remainder were divided among Cardinals Gotti, Oreglia and other candidates. The same distribution of votes was repeated in several ballots. It was not until Monday that Cardinal Sarfo's candidature began to gain ground, some "neutral" Cardinals giving him their suffrages. On Monday evening Cardinal Rampolla got his supporters to give their votes to Cardinal Sarfo, who thus obtained more than thirty, and on Tuesday morning received forty-two votes or one more than a two-thirds majority, as there were sixty-two Cardinals in the conclave.—American.

DAMAGE SUITS.

Two Filed Against the Illinois Central Road.

Two damage suits were filed yesterday against the Illinois Central Railroad Company, aggregating $3,000.

Hugh Lander, a youth under 21 years of age, through his brother and next friend John Lander, sued for $2,000 and John Lander himself sued for $1,000. The petitions allege that the defendant Hugh Lander was en route from Louisville to Hopkinsville July 26 and his brother had gone to Princeton to meet him. They were waiting for a connecting train at Princeton and as they were walking near the track, in a well beaten and much used path some eight feet from track, and when passing an engine standing on the track, a large stream of hot water and steam was thrown upon them injuring them both, and that Hugh Lander was especially injured, being badly scalded on his left leg and temporarily disabled. Their attorneys are C. H. Bush and J. W. Knight.

The department responded promptly, but it was impossible to keep the roof from being burned from the house, a cottage. The contents of the house were removed in a damaged condition. Mr. Lacy's loss is probably $1,000, upon which he carried insurance with Higgins & Son.

It is announced at the department that there is remaining unallotted of the appropriation for the present fiscal year a sufficient sum to establish about 4,000 additional routes.

Taylor-Lovett Contest is Again Taken Up

Further inquiry in the contest of L. K. Taylor against John G. Lovett, for the Democratic nomination for commonwealth's attorney, serves today bare apparent gross frauds in Marshall county.

Mr. Taylor and his lawyers now state as a positive fact that bogus ballots in number have been found in at least one box and that their presence is suspected in many others. This fact, they say today, was proven Thursday evening beyond a reasonable doubt.

The committee of the Second judicial district, composed of C. W. Morrison, of McCracken, and George H. Edwards, of Marshall, will meet here tonight to vote on the question of declaring the primary of May 3 null so far as it pertains to the race for commonwealth's attorney. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Morrison will vote for such action and Mr. Edwards against it. This will leave a deadlock.

The party law says such a contest may go before the state central committee, while the state law is silent on the subject. If it should be found that Mr. Taylor has no recourse in the state courts he will probably lose his contest. In this event some of his friends have urged him to run as an independent candidate.

Mr. Taylor stated today that the manner in which fraud had been practiced, was evident. He said that some person or persons had made false returns of the vote cast in Marshall county and that, then finding a contest would be made and the ballots actually counted, took steps to cover up the fraud. He alleges that first a number of ballots cast for him were removed and that unused ballots in the back of the stub books were marked in favor of Lovett and substituted. There still being a deficiency he says the parties to the fraud had forged ballots printed. He declares he is in possession of proof showing that the ballots were printed in this city and promises further sensations.

Mr. Taylor declared this morning that whether or not he loses his contest he will send the men whom he says robbed him to the penitentiary.

Mr. Taylor, Chairman Morrison and C. M. Leake, who printed the official ballots, returned from Benton Thursday evening, all fully satisfied that gross fraud and felony had been perpetrated in Marshall. With these gentlemen came W. M. Reed and Tom Critz, counsel for Mr. Lovett, and J. C. Flournoy, who is one of Mr. Lovett's legal representatives.

The contest was taken up again Thursday afternoon at the court house in Benton. Lovett's side objected to Mr. Leake being allowed to testify. Chairman Morrison finally decided that Mr. Leake should be heard.

Being sworn he testified positively that many ballots cast at Heights for Mr. Lovett were rank forgeries. He affirmed that he printed the official ballots and that the ballots shown him were evidently printed elsewhere, the type being different from any in his establishment. Only the ballot box at Heights was examined. Mr. Flournoy demanded that the other boxes be opened, but he was told that the keys were in the possession of the election officers.

It was also discovered that the bogus ballots were stamped with purple ink, where all the legal ballots were stamped with either red or black ink.

oped the committee went into executive session to consider the evidence. Mr. Morrison voted to declare the primary off, in so far as it pertained to the race for commonwealth's attorney, but Mr. Edwards took the opposite view. The committee being deadlocked they adjourned.

Miss Helen Royalty has accepted a position with Dalton & White, stone contractors at Princeton, Mo., and entered upon her duties yesterday.

Mr. Jas. M. Southall, of the Dixon Journal, was here Saturday and Sunday, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Southall.

Master George Lawrence, of the Cadiz Record, was in the city yesterday, enroute home from Madis-sonville, where he attended the fair last week.

Mrs. W. H. Vaughan and little twenty-two years and is now a prominent lawyer of that state.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gibson, of Dallas, Texas, after a sojourn of much pleasure to his old friends in this vicinity, who were delighted to see him again after a long absence and to meet his charming young wife.

DR. BOALES DEAD.

Expires at His Father's Home in This City.

Dr. Archie S. Boales, son of Mr.
M. D. Boales, died Sunday morning at his father's home in this city, of a throat trouble. He became fatally ill at his home in Cleveland, Ohio, and his father went to that city and brought him here, but he lived only a few days. Mr. Boales was a native of this city and for a while practiced his profession of dentistry in this city, but had been in Cleveland several years. He was about 30 years old and leaves a wife.

The interment took place in this city yesterday.

KENTUCKY GIRL

Will make Campaign For Alderman in Windy City.

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 7.— Miss Jeannet Obenshain, a schoolteacher, formerly of this city, now in Chicago, has announced to make the race for Alderman in the Seventh ward of that city. She is running as a democrat. The young woman is highly connected in Kentucky and Virginia.

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky, offers the following courses of study, viz: Agriculture, Horticulture, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical, Engineering, Electric Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading each to a Master's degree.
Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers nearly 500 professors and instructors.

COUNTY APPOINTEES receive tuition, room, rest in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well-equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. The latter is completed and in use, the former will be ready for occupancy in October.

Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find employment in positions of liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 604.

Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering and instruction in science.

Specialists with necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science.
The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of College, is the only institution in the commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the college home for young women will provide facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is afforded to each of a thorough education in Classics, Modern Languages, Literature, Science, Mathematics, Logic, Metaphysics, History and Political Economy. No other institution in the State offers the advantages for the education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

taining appointments, information regarding courses of study, and terms of admission apply to

FAITH OF ORIENTALS.

Illustration of It in Borneo—Property's Promise of Flying.

A curious instance of the blindness of the faith of orientals is being by events which took place in northern Borneo during the last decade of the nineteenth century. The interior of that portion of the island is inhabited by a race called Muruts, a semi-savage folk living in dirt and squalor engaging in head-hunting and other barbarous practices, and annually reducing themselves to the verge of famine by converting the best part of their crops into infamous native liquor, in which they habitually indulge to excess. Their religion is a crude form of pantheism, but they hold a belief in a future life, their theory being that departed souls congregate upon the inaccessible summits of Kina-Balu, the magnificent mountain which dominates the land in which they dwell. They are superstitiously lazy and indolent, prodigal and improvident to a degree, and wholly unambitious of better things.

A prophet suddenly appeared among them, says the London Spectator.
He came alone and unattended, a naked Murut like themselves, wandering northward through the mean foreign country that lies back of Brunel and the Lamang valley, and bringing with him no credentials save his own lying tongue. Among any except an oriental people he would not have obtained a moment's hearing; but, with the boundless credulity of the Asiatic to aid him, he had no difficulty in enlisting the whole countryside among the number of his disciples. Yet, apart from their lack of proof, the temptation to reject his teachings should surely have been irresistible.

The prophet demanded enormous personal sacrifices from his devotees as a step preparatory to their initiation into the mysteries which he taught. The disciple was required to give up his wife, his cattle and all his other property, which straightway passed into the keeping of the prophet, and it was only after that transfer had been effected that the magician would consent to undertake the long series of incantations and other magic ceremonies which were to precede the fulfillment of his promise.

This promise itself was perhaps the most curious part of the whole transaction. It was that he would be able to confer upon the initiated the power to fly! Why a naked Murut should be ready and willing to part with all material things in exchange for the bare prospect of an acquire-ment so little advantageous to him is not easy to understand or explain, except on the hypothesis that he hoped to use his new power for the purpose of visiting the crest of Kina-Balu, and so in a manner, gaining Heaven before his time.

Whatever the cause of the subtle fascination of the idea, fascinating it unquestionably was to the Muruts, and the prophets had no lack of followers. Wherefore upon a certain day, when the procession of initiation was declared to be complete, a number of the initiated, at the top of the highest coconut trees in their village, and triumphantly testifying to the boundless faith of the oriental, cast themselves thence to the ground, thus gaining an afterlife, indeed, but without the aid of wings. A failure on so large a scale as this, and fraught with consequences so unpleasant, might have been thought sufficient to cool the enthusiasm and to discredit any project, but this was not the case.

The magician explained that the dead men had fallen victims to their inability to comply literally with the minute instructions which he had given them as being essential to their due initiation into his mysteries, and not only was this view of the circumstances accepted in all good faith, but, passing from village to village, he was able to find many to furnish practical proof of the truth of his confidence in his mission, to the material enhancement of his own wealth and the dislocation of his neighbors' necks. How long this state of affairs might have continued it is impossible to guess, but more than a score of men had been killed before the North Borneo Chartered company stepped in, arrested the prophet, amid much noise and confusion, and immured him in the jail at Sandakan, over the high walls of which his power of flying —of which, by the way, no one had ever had an ocular demonstration—has not served to carry him.

Notoriety Easily Gained.

No wonder men get discouraged when it takes years to establish a reputation for honesty and sobriety, while one can gain a reputation as a thief or drunkard in a few hours.—

CALEB POWERS

Trial At Georgetown Is Exciting
But Little Interest.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 9.—The third trial of Caleb Powers is progressing more speedily than either of the former trials of the defendant.
It will consume at the farthest three weeks, two from this day, and may go to the jury before the close of the third week. Most of the witnesses testifying having been on the stand at the other trials. Little or no interest is being manifested by the people of Scott county and of Georgetown in this trial. Less than fifty people assemble each day to watch the proceedings in court, and more than half of this number have left the court room long before adjournment.

There is, however, much interest in the testimony that the convict Henry Younts, will give, and also in that of Frank Cecil, and of Henry Broughton, of Bell county, the former sheriff who captured Henry Howard at Pineville, when Howard came to town surrounded by his bodyguard.

JETT-WHITE CASE.

Argument Now In Progress—Night Sessions May Be Held.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 10.—The local interest of Cynthiana is now centered in the outcome of the trial which has been in progress here for the past two weeks. A good deal of speculation is engaged in as to what will be the jury's verdict, but the residents of Harrison county can forecast the result with no more certainty than could a Fiji islander. Of the hundreds of people who have expressed their opinion no one except the immediate friends of the defense believes that either of the defendants will be acquitted and very few believe that a death sentence will be returned against White.

Judge W. T. Lafferty spoke for the defense to-day and Mr. Thomas Marcum addressed the jury in behalf of the prosecution. Judge O'borne said yesterday that he might hold night sessions of his court if the argument became too long drawn out.

JOE SCALES

Formerly of Clarksville, Dies In Oklahoma.

Mr. Joseph W. Scales, formerly of Clarksville, died Thursday in Oklahoma City, aged 37. He was the oldest son of Mrs. Hattie B. and the late Judge J. W. Scales, and is survived by his mother, sister and brother.

His sister, Mrs. W. H. Cummings, Jr., and brother, Jack Scales, live in this city, and the deceased has often visited his relatives here. He was a grandson of Mr. Chiles T.
Barker and a nephew of Mrs. W.
H. Jesup, also of this city.

Mr. Scales was prominent in business and social circles of his city.
His death was caused from appendicitis. The interment took place in Clarksville, Sunday.

TAYLOR'S PLOT REHEARSED.

Cecil Tells of His Offer For the Death of Goebel.

feature of the day in the Powers trial was the introduction by the prosecution of Frank Cecil, of Bell county. Cecil is under indictment for the same offense for which Powers is being tried. Cecil's testimony was offered for the purpose of showing the existence of a conspiracy to bring the mountain men to Frankfort and to show that Powers was responsible for the movement. He testified that Taylor offered a balance of $1,500 from the campaign fund and a tree pardon for any man who would kill Goebel.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twelve hours. A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it rains your lines it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also evidence that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scaling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to often pass water, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases of kidney trouble, and is the only remedy you need a doctor in 50c. and $1. states.
You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery free by mail,

CAUGHT IN CALIFORNIA.

Fugitive Ward Will Be Returned to Clarksville.

Homer D. Ward, charged with criminal intimacy with two small girls at the Odd Fellows' Home at Clarksville, the alleged offense having been committed while he was Superintendent of the Institution, has been arrested at Alameda, Cal. The arrest was made by Nashville officers, who will receive a reward of $500.

Three thousand circulars have been sent to the police and detective department of the United States and Canada, giving descriptions of Ward, and the amount offered for his arrest. It was even thought that he might have gone to the Hawaiian Islands, and officers were looking for him in those distant possessions. As a result of the eager search for him nearly twenty-five arrests of suspects have been made in different parts of the United States.

Ward is about 25 years old, and is a young man of very boyish appearance. Last July he went to Clarksville to accept the position of Superintendent of the Odd Fellows' Home, and held the position until the first part of this year. He is a young man of fine business qualifications, and his apparent faithfulness to duty and to his employers was very pleasing to the management. During January the shocking discovery was made that two of the little girls, inmates of the institution, had been led astray. The victims were only 11 and 13 years old.

The matter caused an investigation, and the names of the girls were charged to Ward. The odd fellows of Tennessee were aroused and the affair caused a great sensation. While the investigation was pending Ward disappeared and had a good start before the officers were looking for him. President Metzger, of the Board of Trustees, whose home is in Nashville, personally offered a reward for the arrest of the man. The total amount offered by the Odd Fellows is $300. The governor of Tennessee was induced to offer $200. Ward is now enroute to California, where he will answer the charge.

There is an old allegorical pic-large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against use for this disease is Chamberlain's it is used, as one or two doses of it will cure any ordinary attack. It cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack. Attacks

ONE WAY TO FIGHT A PLAGUE.

Music a Successful Means of Fighting Some Common Pests.
An electrical engineer employed by Mr. Edison was lately engaged upon some experimental work on harmonic telegraphy. He happened to notice that when the note given out by the instrument reached a certain pitch all the mosquitoes in the neighborhood came flying towards the apparatus. The workman procured a quantity of fly paper, with which he covered the machine, and so succeeded in capturing thousands of the noxious insects.

The cause of this queer musical attraction, says London Answers, seems to be that the note produced by the machine was exactly similar to that caused by the rapid vibration of the wings of the mosquito when flying.
Sir Hiram Maxim has since made experiments of a similar kind, and found that a tuning fork, giving a similar note, was equally attractive to the gnats and mosquitoes in the neighborhood.

Noris this the only case on record of insects fighting by the aid of music.
A cloud of locusts came flying over the town of Geryville, in South ern Algeria, one day last August and began to descend in countless millions upon the fields and gardens.
The French officer in command of the garrison ordered out the band, and told them to make as much noise as possible. The locusts rose again and moved away, and the crops were saved.

Colors play an important part in the attraction or repulsion of certain insects. It was noticed during the Cuban war that the American soldiers who were clad in the regulation navy-blue shirts suffered more severely than any others from the bites of mosquitoes. The surgeon general instituted a series of tests. He had boxes painted with various colors, and placed in a mosquito-haunted neighborhood. It was found that the one painted blue attracted 108 insects, next came brown and dark red, but these attracted only two each.
Yellow failed to secure a single mosquito visitor. As a consequence, blue shirts will no longer be issued to troops in mosquito-infested regions.
Travelers are recommended to wear some khaki-colored material when journeying in the tropics.

Portugal suffered terribly last summer from a plague of locusts.
Every possible means was employed to destroy them. Birds were let loose, poison strewn, great fires lighted; but all was in vain until an ingenious scientist of the town of Coimbra solved the problem. He found that a microbe resembling that of cholera was rapidly fatal to the insects.
Large quantities were made, and carried over the places where the locusts were fed. The effects were almost miraculous. The locusts died in millions, and in a few days the country was practically free of them.

The trees in the London parks have lately been suffering from the attacks of certain caterpillars. These bore into the bark and wood, and eventually cause the trunks to become rotten and the trees to die. It has been suggested that the best way to protect the trees from attacks of this kind will be to drive nails into the bark.
This is a common practice in Brazil, with fruit trees attacked by caterpillars. The explanation is that the iron combines with the tannic acid in the bark to give the sap of the tree a flavor which is distasteful to insect enemies of all kinds.

It was in 1817 that the Colorado beetle first appeared upon our shores, landing in a cattle boat at Liverpool.
This destructive creature increased so rapidly that Paris green went up to five times its former price. Last year the same beetle reappeared at Tilbury. The board of agriculture at once took over the land and put a guard over it. It was drenched with paraffin, but even so the dreaded insect turned up again this season on the same patch of soil. By next year it is hoped to stamp the pest completely out.

The growers of mustard in South Lincolnshire have suffered terribly this year from the devastations of the mustard-bug. At last it occurred to one of them to turn chickens into the field. The chickens devoured the insects hungrily, and as many as 1,000 birds were afterward set to work in a single field. The mustard devorers have been practically wiped out of existence.

Long Imprisonment.
A short time ago a Sicilian advocate was found guilty of 60 different acts of fraud. For his industry and enthusiasm in the cause of chicanery he was sentenced to 180 years of imprisonment.

AIDS TO IMAGINATION.

A Little Gentle Satire on Some Popular Scientific Metaphors.

The human mind, says the London Globe, is so constructed—speaking with all respect to senior wranglers, many of like ability—that it is unable to realize large figures when they exceed a certain very moderate sum. As a consequence, those people whose task it is to bring home elaborate figures to the public are wont out of the fullness of their appreciation of the weakness of the human intellect, to express the figures by familiar and often more or less ludicrous metaphors.

Mr. Sidney Holland the other day unfolded the number of miles to which the pills dispensed at the London hospital in one year would extend, and he no doubt brought home to his hearers and readers the inimitable benefits conferred by the hospital. But the method is more commonly used in popular science than in economics. We were told, for example, the other day, that the way to appreciate the size of the sun was to put into it, in imagination, the earth and the moon. Both at their present distance would be easily contained within the circumference, and yet not reach the center. It is high time that some kind friend put in some neat figure the size of a microbe. In most people's minds it bulks largely as a fair-sized chicken. The speed and nature of a Marconi message need similar illustration. For example, how much faster does it go than a cricket ball thrown up by Jessop? The effort should not be beyond the scope of the popular scientific lecturer.

An Ant's Great Strength.

Mr. A. R. Miller recently weighed a small ant and a dead grasshopper which it was dragging to its nest. The weight of the grasshopper was found to be 60 times greater than that of the ant. The force exerted by the ant in dragging the grasshopper along the road was therefore proportionately equal to that of a man weighing 150 pounds pulling a load of four and a half tons, or a horse of 1,200 pounds a load of 36 tons.

A City of Padlocks.

Irkutsk, in Siberia, is said to be a veritable city of padlocks. There are more padlocks on the shutters and doors of an Irkutsk shop than can be found in an English city of 200,000. There are as many as three padlocks on some shop doors, and every lower-story shutter bears from one to five—London T-Bits.

Rings Under Gloves.

According to a well-known London jeweler people who want their rings to last should not wear them under gloves. The constant friction of the gloves wears the tiny points that hold the stones in place, and the result is that the stones fall out unless they are closely locked after.

HIS WORD FOR IT.

No Need for Hopkingsville People to Do Any Guessing.

No need for Hopkingsville people to do any guess for relief from bad backs, urinary weaknesses and disorders and other symptoms of kidney trouble. A man whom you can believe says that Doan's Kidney Pills will reach all such cases.

C. B. Eades, of the firm of Eades & Davis, proprietors of the Coal Yard on Seventh street and the L. & N. R. R., and who lives at 402 East Seventh street, says: "I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and so highly recommended by persons who had used them that I went to Thomas & Traher's drug store, procured a box and gave them a thorough trial. I had suffered for a long time with a heavy pain across the small of my back, sharp and acute at times. When I caught cold it always settled in my back, and there followed a weakness of the kidneys which was exasperating especially at night. I tried various remedies but none of them gave anything like a satisfactory result as I obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am pleased to say that they brought me great relief. I have recommended the pills and will continue to do so to all my friends and acquaintances."

It is a most excellent medicine for worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at R. C. The Delinquent For September.

The September Delinquent is an attractive number and presents a charming and up-to-date display of Autumn fashions. Letters from the foreign fashion centers and illustrations of the newest fabrics, latest millinery and novelties in trimmings and accessories are valuable contributions in this all important month in the realm of style. A special feature is a Collection of Rare Samples, an illustrated article showing many precious bits of needlework that are included in a number of famous art collections. In the Flower Series, N. Hudson Moore charmingly recounts the story of the Lilac. A Mystery Luncheon, by Miles Bradford, contains some excellent suggestions for the table along with a good story. A house possessing the comforts and conveniences of the twentieth and the history and architecture of the eighteenth centuries is shown, as well as a couple of pages of exclusive photographs of pets of actors and actresses. Mrs. Clara E. Laughlin writes entertainingly of the Fourfold Love; Margaret Hall has a helpful chapter on the relations of mistress and servant; and Mrs. Birney adds a paper on Childhood. In fiction, there is the concluding installment of "The Boia Rules," the first part of a delightful story. A Florida Cracker, by Virginia Frazier Bayle, a pretty love story, entitled "The White Moth," by Edward Stratton Holladay, and an amusing monologue, "An Afternoon Drive," by Mrs. Woodward Hudson. Among the poetical contributions are: "The Song of the Corn," by Minna Smith; "Grandma's Sampler," by Alice L. Eaton; "Woodland Song," by Clinton Scollard; "The Argosy," by Edmund Vance Cheney; "Compensation," by Elizabeth Bagges. For the Children, Lina Heard describes and explains the construction in miniature of the Hanging of Babylon; Livingston Morse has a Firelight story, "The Mouses' At-Home;" and Michael White contributes an entertaining tale called "Bobby's Garden." There is also the "Sewing Lesson." The departments contain much information of practical value in the home.

GREAT ELEPHANTS.

Wonderful Exhibition of Pachydermic Perspicacity.

Of all the animals from foreign land, whether tame or wild, there are none that excite more general interest than the elephant. Their docility as an animal for exhibition purposes has fairly passed away. In mere numbers they no longer attract especially. It is when they are trained that they become valuable. The largest collection of trained elephants in the world is now undoubtedly the collection comprising four distinct herds that is carried through the country and exhibited by the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United. There are a score of them and each one of them has been trained to do everything possible for animals of his bulk to perform. As is well known, the elephant is about the most intelligent and sagacious as well as the largest of animals in the natural kingdom.

The one group of elephants which is the most famous lot of trained elephants are the world-wide-known Adam Forepaugh dancing elephants. They are eight in number and they move through the mazes of the quadrille in perfect order. It is a pity that they might not be seen in an enormous field so that there would be plenty of room for their huge bodies to move in. Confined as they are by the bounds of a circus ring, their dancing in so small a space, comparatively, is all the more wonderful. They will be seen here when these great shows exhibit, on Thursday, August 27th.

OHIO'S TURN

To Feel the Effects of Anti-Lynching Talk.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 6.—St. Clairsville, O., was visited this evening when it was reported that Mrs. M. E. Stowe, a highly respected resident, had been criminally assaulted by C. E. Burns, a young negro lawyer. A mob is searching for Burns with the intention of lynching him if he is found and proven guilty.

Mrs. Stowe had been out for a walk during the afternoon. About 6 o'clock she started home, the route extending through a woods. When within 200 yards of home she was seized by a negro, who she says was Burns, and thrown to the ground. She made a brave but unsuccessful struggle. When the woman regained consciousness her screams attracted the attention of several persons, who rushed to her assistance. She was taken home where she told of the assault. Many men organized a posse and set out in pursuit of the negro, who escaped to the woods. The enraged mob is fully armed. Mrs. Stowe is in a critical condition. A late report says bloodhounds have scented the trail and the chase is going on with renewed vigor.

GILBERT NAMED.

Calloway Man Will Succeed Senator Utley.

Cadiz, Ky., Aug. 8.—J. W. Gilbert, of Calloway county, received the Democratic nomination for State Senator from the Third district at the convention at Cerulean Springs. The nomination was made on the fifth ballot and the only other name brought before the convention was that of C. C. Grassham, of Livingston county. The Hon. Feeton Sims, of Cadiz, was chairman of the convention and J. A. Howlett, of Calloway county, secretary. Gilbert received the 14 votes of Calloway and Sol Lyon, while Grassham received 8 of Livingston and 8 of Trigg. Grady, of Trigg, declined to enter. The nominee is said to be for Blackburn for Senator and for Henry George for Prison Commissioner.

Young Pheasants

(Communicated.)

Mr. W. A. Glass, who raised some English Pheasants last year and liberated them on his farm, reports that several broods of young ones have been seen by the neighbors while cutting wheat this summer. Mr. Archie Higgins, who also liberated some, makes a similar report. There were several pairs placed on the farm of Mrs. J. C. Moore and it is more than probable they have done as well. It is hoped they will be protected as much as possible and given an opportunity to propagate. It is said that one pair will bring off two broods of from 12 to 15 young every season.

HALL OF ALL NATIONS.

To be an Attractive Feature of Cincinnati Festival.

Cincinnati, Aug. 9.—Novelty in the arrangement of exhibition features, is eagerly sought by promoters of industrial expositions. The Fall Festival Association of Cincinnati, claims to have solved the problem of combining usefulness and beauty for display purposes, in a Hall of all nations for the September Festival. The floor of the great Music Hall will be arranged in a series of booths, each representing some nation of the world, England, France, Spain, Germany, Russia, Ireland, America, etc., with decorations, architecture, costumes, and so far as may be, exhibiting the typical products and industries of the country represented. The merchants and business men of Cincinnati, have not been slow to appreciate the decorative advantages of the Hall of all Nations, for presenting their goods and importations under the most favorable conditions. One importing house will display silks, laces and feminine triffles, under the French tri-color; another, cotton ducks, prints and drillings, under the Stars and Stripes. The Brazilian flag will wave over a booth wherein the entire process of gathering, drying, roasting and making coffee from the berry will be carried out. The Russian booth will exhibit costly furs. The cup that cheers and does not inebriate, will be brewed under the claws of the yellow dragon, guardian of the Celestial Empire. Memories of the German fatherland, and of Erin, will be revived by handsomely decorated booths, maintained by patriotic societies, of those countries, whose citizens have found a new home under the gracious shadow of the American Eagle. The attendants of all the displays in the Hall of all Nations, will wear the costume of the country to whose booth they are attached, thus maintaining a picturesque ensemble.

Tobacco Matures Earlier and Is of Finer Texture.

The experiment of growing white burley tobacco under canvas now being made by the Continental Tobacco Company, on the farm of J. E. Cahill, near Maysville, Ky., promises to prove a remarkable success. The object is to obtain a fine leaf suitable for cigar wrappers. Mr. Cahill reports the tobacco growing under canvas without a blemish so far, and says it is at least a month nearer maturity than tobacco growing in the same field that was set out at the same time. That under canvas is more uniform in its growth and is much larger and of finer texture.

Ms. Cahill also concluded to experiment with growing tomatoes under canvas, and finds it a success far beyond all anticipations. Those raised under canvas matured much earlier and are at least twice as large and superior in every respect.

MR. BAUBOLD ROBBED.

Thief Secures Good Sum—Very Sleek Job.

A thief extracted $40 in cash from Max Raubold's store Friday. The money was in a sack in the cash drawer and some small change lying by was not disturbed. The theft was committed in the day time and was one of the boldest pieces of work of the kind executed in Hopkinsville for a long time. It was evidently done by some one familiar with the premises.

The day before a thief entered a grocery on Fourth street, unobserved, and secured about $10 in a similar manner.
